JANUARY 31 | 7 PM

Some husbands and wives they have resigned themselves to the idea that their spouse will never change and are left with two options - tolerate a life of misery or get out of the marriage and hope for something better. This leaves you a prisoner of your decision. If this is you, know that there is hope through the application of godly instruction given in the Word of God. We are called to be a light in the world, an influence, and this includes our marriage.

We can't change anyone including our spouse, however we can greatly influence them by how we interact with them. Join us to gain insight into the power of influence that can impact the life of your spouse and be beneficial to your marriage.

*Please note that this meeting will be recorded live for only half of the service due to the content covered in the second half. Child care will be provided for 6th grade and under during that time.

A fellowship will be held after service in the lower level of the church. Snacks and refreshments will be provided.

If this is your first time to FAF and you've received a welcome bag, please fill out the information card inside and hand it to an usher or place in offering basket.
Thank you!
